FROGS SWAMP

Frogs Swamp is a swamp combat encounter for four to five characters with an average party level (APL) of 2nd level. A band of bullywugs have taken hostages and are looting supplies. Statistics for creatures found within this encounter can be located in the 5th edition SRD. Creatures marked with an asterisk are non-SRD creatures.

The soft ground sinks underfoot, and insects buzz around your face. Ahead croaking can be heard mixed with shouts. A band of frog-like humanoids are rummaging through a wagon, while three figures are tied to a tree.

SWAMP RAIDERS

This encounter takes place in any swamp environment. Traders have used this road for decades to shortcut through the swamp to towns on the other side. A band of *bullywugs have taken to raiding along this road for supplies and riches to return to their swamp-dwelling king.

ENCOUNTER: ROBBERS IN THE MIST

When the character's arrive, the *bullywugs are looting supplies from a band of traders making their way through the swamp. The traders are led by a woman named Ismay, she and her two guards are tied to a nearby tree while five *bullywugs empty the wagon, and three giant toads are hidden in the mud nearby.

SWAMP ENCOUNTER

HAZARD: LIGHT FOG

The area is covered in a patchy fog that drifts across the swamp. Creatures in the fog have disadvantage on Wisdom (perception) checks that rely on sight. The *bullywugs are used to finding things in these conditions and do not suffer any penalty while in the swamp.

THE RAIDERS

Three *bullywugs will pile supplies near the edge of the swamp, preparing to load them onto the three hidden giant toads (DC 16 to spot) nearby. The two other bullywugs hold spears to Ismay and her guards who are tied to a tree.

CONCLUSION

Attack the bullywugs. If the characters choose to rush in to attack, the two *bullywugs guarding the captives will move in to strike while the other three hurry to load supplies on one giant toad. The other two giant toads will sneak around to attack the characters.

Stay out of it. If the characters do nothing, two giant toads emerge from the swamp, and the *bullywugs begin loading supplies onto their backs before all the bullywugs retreat into the swamp leaving the captives tied up.
