

You did?

But why..?

Would you rather find out about it from someone else..

Or would you rather it coming from Crush?

I guess you're right..

Honestly, if I heard about it from other people, I don't think I'd believe them..

See? It has to come from Crush himself!

It wasn't always like that, you know.

When his parents built the Syndicate, their funds mostly came from blackmailing politicians.

Not to say they didn't kill anyone, they were trained after all, but they only accepted jobs at the request of the victim, free of charge.

I just want justice.. they mangled my son.. but I can't afford good lawyers..

Please kill him. I don't want their money..

They will never suffer.. please help me get revenge..

It wasn't much, but we were smart about our finances.

We weren't rich, but we had enough to keep the operations going.

That is until after we lost both of our leaders on that one night.

The news quickly spread to those politicians, and we lost our main source of revenue.

We were on the cusp of bankruptcy, on top of losing many members due to the pressure.

We had to think of a way to make money, and quick.

In the midst of panic and uncertainty, our stand-in leader at the time said.

"I have a solution

But I'm gonna need a couple of people to get their hands dirty".

I mean, I wasn't there, but it was probably something cool like that, I would assume.

Beep Beep Beep

Anyways, He recruited a few of us to do some assassination jobs for his friends overseas.

The international jobs don't affect our economy or public relations, so it was a good way to earn revenue undetected by law enforcement.

CLACK

That's awful.. I know what we do is good

I've seen the people we helped, I'm one of them. But..

But you don't know how to feel about the entire organization being funded by blood money?

Y-yeah.. But it's not just the money

It's.. Crush's involvement, too.

I understand, That's why I took you here!

SHUT

The data room..? Why?

I've to show you something from Crush's file!!

Crush's file?

But Sector 1 mission logs are classified.

Nobody but the higherups can see them..

I know that!! I wasn't looking for Sector 1 mission logs, silly!

But.. Shouldn't Crush's files be logged under Sector 1??

Yes, but.. This one isn't!

It's logged under my name!

EHH??

Here it is!
