

In her head she thought that she was being incredibly clever!

Mommy insisted that she eat all of that yucky yellow sloppy food or she'd find some punishment that would teach her to eat everything in the future!

Rather than shovelling it in her mouth she tried her best to carefully hide it. Mommy kept her naked so there were no sneaky pockets to hide it in... then she realised that the thick diaper between her legs would be the perfect place to hide it.

It was a lot harder than she thought and it soon dripped and dribbled all over her making a real mess, and the goopy slop that now sat in her diaper felt disgusting!

Maybe Mommy does need to teach her a lesson...
